Adam Breckeepen, porter of the Prescott House, was examined, but his testimony did not amount to anything.

Wm. Leise, Custom House broker, Wall street, testified to diamonds, &c., in Feliner's possession abortly after his thesteamhest—that he was going to threage; did not say what time he lost his cacle on the best; said he came heme at the o'clock the night before, and gave as a reason for being so late that he had taken his uncle to the steamboat; he appeared to be confamed; did not aspear to be as quiet an usual; said he expected a aster from Falher, directing him to send the expected a aster from Falher, directing him to send the things on; said Radaky again ga Monday uncerning at my house, he had ordered two dozon reticules and wanted them by four o'clock P. M., and nothing further about his uncle, saw him the cost thursday with Mr. and Mrs. Schweszer, did not see him after that; believ wore no specthales when I saw him.

Cross examined—Saw Felicer twice; my house is about held as hour's wast from Hamilton in ry; it was on Tuesday when Felicer directed my attention to the boat house; we were not at the boat house; we were going home when Radsky came up.

David Jaigor—iterated

we were not at the boat home; we were going home when Radsky came up.

David I along—issaded in Third avenue, Brocklyn, in October, 1841, amra tocksmith, Radsky came to me for a key and I went with him to the home to open his trunk; opened the tru k, the trunk here exhibited is the one; it contained some olething this was on Bonday night; hir. Funk and Radsky were tresent the pristoner asked me to open it and then make a key for it. Turnshed him the key text day Thesday) did not open it then; my wife washed a dozen lines shirts for hirs. Funk they were gentlemen's shirts, have size? Mr. Funk tock them away; was not acquinted with Radsky before the Sunday he called on me.

Cross examined—Radsky came to me in company with hir. Funk about the key; may known Funk about five years; made the key. Mrs Funk was below in the basement when we were opening the trunk; ahe knew what we were doing; it took me half an hour to got the trunk open.

Cress examined—Radsky came to me in ormpany with Mr. Funk about the key; Mrs kunk was below in the basement when we were opening the trunk; abe knew what we were doing; it took me half an hour to gat the trunk open.

The tourt—This was opened as Radsky's trunk, while it was Feilmer's trunk.

Cross-examination continued—There were two trunks in the room—ones small travelling brunk; the large trunk was on a chair when I came the second time.

Re direct—It appeared as if some one might have meetided with the lock; there are two locks, and one key fits both.

Mrs. Funk recalled by presecution—Took some shirts to Mrs. Builing to be washed; Radsky gave them to me to be washed; den't know where he got them from; there were thirteen in all.

Cross-examined—Mrs. Daling had the shirts when the police to Now-York; and an everous hanging on the door of Feilmer's bedroom en Sanday; feilmer did not go out with this coat (herefore referred to) on Friday; Feilmer had a black cost on when he left; the watch given by Feilmer to Radsky was similar to the one exhibited.

Thillp Farrier (police officer in 1861)—Went to No. 4 Carroil street in October; saw the trunk now here; examined it; it contained a frockcost, pair of pantaloons, pair of gold spectacles, spectacle case and two spectacle glasses; very few articles besides those mentioned (identified pantaloons exhibited); the pockets were turned inside out; saw a cane which was taken from behind the stairs by Mr. Funk; there was also a satchel or carpot bug behind the stairs; it appeared to be a place whore rubelish was kept; took the articles to the detective office (paper exhibited); first saw this paper in St. Louis; Radsky stated to me whose writing was on it.

Cross-examined—He was under articles to the paper as evidence, contending that as an admission—If it was such—by the prisoner, it was obtained when he was in custody, in a state of fear and terror.

The District Attorney contended that a free and wolantary confession at any time or place was admissiable as evidence.

the police (reled out); went to see Mrs. Marx first; wentinto the house; returned to the regiment to obtain a furlough; same back to New York; met his wife and Racky in a saloon near East Broadway; Radaky asked me to come and see these women for the Ppurpose of getting an explanation; told me that if my wife went to see about the body he would get into trouble and might be imprisoned; that he had been in company with Feliner; had been with Feliner one evening and left him on a steamboat; told me Feliner was a very wealthy man; had got acquainted with him in Broadway; Radaky spoke to me about receiving presenta from Feliner—watch, bresstpin, and said something about a pair of panta.

The Secretary of the Treasury left Philadelphia this afternoon at two P. M., and will arrive here this evening. His friends do not seem to expect that he will take any steps which can interfere with the present liberal offering of money by the people, though other persons expect him to offer a loan. To-day $2,000,000 were deposited here with the Sub-Treasurer on call at 5 per cent, and $1,200,000 for conversions. Such enormous contributions of money to the support of a govern ment are unexampled in history.

The Harlem grant of the Broadway Railroad is the engrossing topic of conversation in Wall street. Satisfaction is generally expressed at the defeat of the Albany schemers, who would not listen to Mr. Stewart's offer of $2,000,000 for the grant. The Harlem company expect to pay about year to the city for the franchise, whi than double what A. T. Stewart offer The Africa took out $34,212 in special
